English Immersion Education

At Linden Hall High School, we implement an "English Immersion" program where almost all subjects, with the exception of Japanese language classes, are taught in English. Our objective goes beyond simply improving language proficiency; we aim for our students to master English as a versatile tool, enabling them to articulate their thoughts logically and persuasively on any topic.

WAKON EISAI

On the global stage, individuals are often called upon to represent their country, requiring them to present uniquely Japanese perspectives and rationales. Guided by our educational philosophy of "Wakon Eisai," we emphasize not only advanced English communication but also provide ample opportunities within our curriculum to deeply study Japanese culture and values.
